Rain

Between
18:00 Sat 16 Dec 2023 and
23:59 Sun 17 Dec 2023

A prolonged period of heavy rain this weekend is expected to lead to some flooding and travel disruption

What to expect

- Some communities may be cut off by flooded roads
- Fast flowing or deep floodwater is possible, causing a danger to life
- Delays or cancellations to train and bus services are possible
- Spray and flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded, causing damage to some buildings
- There is a slight chance of power cuts and loss of other services to some homes and businesses

Further details

Following persistent and heavy rain over the past 24 hours across northwest Scotland, rain is expected to continue through Sunday morning before moving south and gradually easing later. 30-50 mm of rain is expected widely, with a few places likely seeing 75-100 mm over the course of the weekend. Higher accumulations are expected within the amber warning area.

What should I do?

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding.

✓ Low likelihood of medium impacts

Further Details (continued)

If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.

Reason for update

Warning end time has been brought forward to the end of Sunday.
